Nasser Quits; Claim Israel Bombed Syria

Take it from Here

NEWSROOM NOTES — Conspicuous consumption has reached down to the junior level. The annual model change syndrome has invaded the children's world.

The manufacturer of a popular doll is currently advertising an improved version of his product and is offering it to kids at half price if they will trade in their copy of the old one. The new doll is much better—it has a pliable body, "real" eyelashes, is more glamorous in every way. Any child would want it.

We wonder, though, just how many little girls will want to get rid of their old dolls, and we're sentimental enough to hope it isn't very many. The love a child lavishes on her doll doesn't seem to be something that can be traded in every year for a "better" model.

It may surprise some adults, but a child's imagination is so rich that it can endow even the crudest kind of thing with life—a shapeless, stuffed stock, a chipped, one-legged doll that somebody else discarded, even a stick.

The same thing is true with boys, who can have more fun with odds and ends of junk than with the most elaborate construction kits—if adults would only let them.

Time was when a little girl grew up with a doll and wouldn't part with it for anything, except to proudly pass it on to her own daughter. Today, of course, any child who has to make do with a hand-me-down is considered "deprived."

We could be wrong, however. It could be that dolls have become so lifelike and realistic they no longer excite a child's power of fantasy. They may have become just too glamorous to love.

Suspension Denied by Klan Leader

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI)—Apparently there are some extra sheets in the linen closet of the Ku Klux Klan. The robbed order seems to have a supersecret intelligence agency that top Klan leaders know nothing about.

The existence of the "National Intelligence Committee (NIC)," came to light in letters sent to many Klansmen from Atlanta.

The NIC, said the letters, suspended Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., head of the nation's largest Klan group, the United Klans of America, Inc., and J. Robert Jones, grand dragon of the North Carolina Klan, "until further notice."

Shelton said he'd never heard of the NIC and denied he was ousted. Jones, equally in the dark about the NIC, said "I was not thrown into the Klan and I will not be thrown out."

In Atlanta, Grand Dragon Calvin Craig of the Georgia Klan, contended there was no official intelligence group within the Klan.

9 Dead, 22 Missing on 'Liberty'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The death toll has climbed to a possible 31 in the mistaken Israeli attack on the U.S. communications ship Liberty in the Mediterranean Thursday, the Defense Department announced today.

A Pentagon spokesman said nine sailors were known dead, 22 were missing and 75 wounded, 15 of them seriously.

Believed Trapped
Some of the missing are believed trapped in the flooded forward compartments of the ship. It was not known whether any were lost at sea.

The new report on casualties were issued after the U.S. destroyers Davis and Massey and the carrier America rendezvoused with the Liberty in the eastern Mediterranean.

The previous report on casualties had been that 10 were dead and 100 wounded, 20 of them seriously.

Before issuing the revised casualty figures, Pentagon officials reported that Israeli sea and air forces had launched two separate attacks on the U.S. vessel.

Two helicopters from the America reached the Liberty at 4:30 a.m. EDT, and the America itself reached the scene at 5:30 a.m. EDT.

15 Seriously Wounded
All of the 15 seriously wounded were transferred by helicopter to the America. Twenty other wounded were scheduled to be flown to the aircraft carrier later.

The ships headed toward Souda Bay, Crete, at a speed of

Senate Approves Strict Remap for 33 States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surprisingly overriding committee recommendations, the Senate has approved a strict congressional redistricting bill that would force reapportionment in 33 states by next year.

The Senate action slashed by two-thirds—from 30 per cent to 10 per cent—the variation in district population allowable within each state under the bill as it passed the House.

The measure now goes to a Senate-House conference committee amid predictions a compromise between the 30 per cent and 10 per cent figures will be reached.

The Senate first voted 44 to 39 Thursday for an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., that inserted the 10 per cent limit. It then passed the bill 57 to 25.

The House previously had approved legislation providing for a 30 per cent variation next year and a 10 per cent spread starting in 1972, and the Senate Judiciary Committee had increased the variation for the next four years to 35 per cent.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee, and Rep. James C. Corman, D-Calif., who authored the House bill, both expressed pleasure with the Senate developments, lauding especially a change which restores language to prevent gerrymandering of districts.

The Senate bill says districts must be as compact as practi-

Reveal Interview

Speck Convinced He Killed Nurses

CHICAGO (UPI)—Supplemental statements by Richard Speck showed he was convinced he was the killer of the eight young nurses for whose murders he was convicted and sentenced to death, the Chicago Tribune said today.

"I had blood on my hands," Speck was quoted as saying.

The statements, hitherto unrevealed, were contained in court transcripts made to medical personnel at the jail hospital where Speck was confined immediately after his arrest last July.

The Speck comments were jotted down in note form by Dr. Albert Feinerman, a staff psychiatrist at the hospital.

They were suppressed after being entered into the court record by defense attorneys during a closed session in Circuit Court Judge Herbert C. Paschen's chambers Feb. 7.

The defense then sought to suppress all statements made by Speck while he was in custody, it was learned.

The transcript recorded Speck statements during interviews with Dr. William J. Norcross, associate medical director at the jail. They said:

"Look Doc, why should I lie to you? I'm trying to cooperate. I'm convinced that I'm the killer. I admit that. Why should I lie about the rest?"

Norcross notes also included "Speck's attitude toward the crime."

"I'm convinced I did it," Speck told Norcross. "There was blood on my hands, they have the finger prints and the girl identifies me. I killed 16 people with this crime. The eight girls and my family."

On Oct. 22, according to the transcript, Norcross got these observations:

"The chair, say, that is a good way to straighten a fellow out. You can't let people get away with things like they say I have done. If they give me the chair they will never electrocute me. I will take care of it myself. I will take care of it in my cell."

Norcross was one of six court-appointed physicians approved by both the defense and prosecution to examine Speck and determine his competency to stand trial. All concluded that Speck was competent to answer the eight murder charges.

U.N. Calls For New Cease-Fire

By United Press International
President Gamal Abdel Nasser resigned tonight after Egypt's humiliating defeat by Israeli troops. Israel was reported to have invaded Syria today in a renewal of the Mideast war and to have used bombs, bullets and napalm against a Syrian village.

Israeli troops were 40 miles from Damascus.

Nasser, defeated by the Israelis in both 1956 and 1967, blamed his "grave setback" on massive American and British support he said was given to Israel. He suggested Vice President Zakaria Mohieddin replace him and said he would return to private life.

As he announced his decision on Cairo Radio, United Nations Secretary General Thant told the Security Council in New York he had reports Israel threw 200 planes against Syria today and Israeli planes bombed the Syrian capital of Damascus. The U.N. demanded once again the fighting halt.

Israel said it had silenced guns on the Syrian side of the border north of the Sea of Galilee after Syria mounted a massive attack against Israel. Syria said the Israelis attacked with planes, tanks, infantry and artillery and invaded Syria.

Thant, in a report to the Security Council, quoted information from Lt. Gen. Odd Bull of Norway, chief of the U.N. truce supervision organization (UNTSO) in Palestine. It was a report from Bull that said Israel used napalm against the village of Squofiye.

Bull said the Israeli invasion had carried at least 15 miles to the town of Qunitra due west of the Lake Hula region that was the scene of Israeli-Syrian clashes for years. Bull said heavy explosions were heard in the area.

It was the second truce violation reported today. Israeli armor was reported to have smashed a counterattack by Egyptian tanks trying to (See NASSER . . . Page 2)

The commissioner said cardboard boxes will be taken away with the clippings but metal containers will be emptied and left at the curb.

Seek Appropriation Cutbacks

Legislature Battles Budget

SPRINGFIELD (UPI)—Matching revenue with appropriations offered a wide variety of choices to Illinois lawmakers today, and the issue appeared to be far from resolved.

Gov. Otto Kerner told the legislature in his budget message that the two figures wouldn't match up with a $685 million increase in general revenue.

He proposed to extend the sales taxes to virtually all service occupations, a suggestion received coolly by some Republican lawmakers.

Key Republican legislators were looking for ways to cut

Rochelle Teen Killed; 5 Injured

ROCHELLE — Sixteen-year-old Gary R. Peters, who would have been a senior at Rochelle Township High School this fall, died at 11 p.m. Thursday in St. Anthony's Hospital, Rockford, of injuries sustained earlier when the car in which he was riding smashed into a culvert and overturned on U.S. 51, 1½ miles north of Rochelle.

Five other youths were injured in the crash, which occurred at about 7:30 p.m.

In serious condition in Swedish-American Hospital, Rockford, is Richard Reed, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Reed, 937 N. 12th St.

In good condition today in Rochelle Community Hospital are the driver of the car, Ronald Davidson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Davidson, Creston; Richard Maginnis, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Maginnis, 429 Ninth St., and Melanie Thompson, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vertis Thompson, Rt. 3.

Treated and released from the Rochelle hospital were two other passengers in the car, James Watson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Watson, 1208 Tilton Park

Committee OKs Second Largest Defense Outlay

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a warning of more to come, the House Appropriations Committee recommended today record peacetime defense financing of $70.3 billion, including $20.3 billion for the war in Vietnam.

This is $1.29 billion less than President Johnson requested for the fiscal year starting July 1 and is in addition to an estimated $43.7 billion in other previously appropriated funds which remain available.

The amount recommended is $65.6 million more than appropriated for the present fiscal year.

Only once before, in the World War II fiscal year 1944, has Congress provided more defense funds. Appropriations that year were $86.4 billion.

The committee in a report written by Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., emphasized that none of the cuts would hamper the war effort and said more funds probably would be needed before year's end.

Costs Rising

"The tempo and cost of the war in Southeast Asia are on an upward trend," the committee commented. "The costs of wars can never be projected precisely. The actions of the opponent weigh heavily on such matters."

It added that any request for more money would be given a high priority. The bill is scheduled for House action next week.

The cuts in the bill were aimed at Defense Department programs not directly related to the war. On some items, the committee recommended more than the President requested.

A large boost was $106.7 million to buy more all-weather aircraft for Vietnam use. Another was addition of $114.8 million to build a new nuclear-powered guided missile frigate plus $20 million for advance work on a second nuclear frigate.

Procurement of planes, tanks, ships and other military hardware accounted for $22.26 billion in the bill's total. Next largest allotment was $21.92 billion for paying military personnel.

The Air Force share of the total was $22.62 billion, the Army's $22.62 billion and the Navy's $19.83 billion. Interagency programs accounted for $3.77 billion.

Reds Hurl Mortars At Hue

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist guerrillas made a brazen mortar attack on the heavily defended city of Hue today, virtually under the nose of a U.S. Marine force sent to clear the area of Viet Cong.

The 50-round bombardment caused little damage and only one casualty—a slightly injured American. But it succeeded in stirring up jitters in the university city, long a prime target of the Communists in their attempts to take over the key northern provinces.

In the air, American jets hit North Vietnam with 110 missions, targeting supply routes and anti-aircraft sites in the southern part of the country. Communist gunners shot down an F4C Phantom, the 57th American plane lost over the North. Both of its crewmen were listed missing and feared dead.

The U.S. command announced the conclusion of two Army operations which had accounted for 585 Communist dead since they started several weeks ago.

Officials said 41 Communists were killed in scattered action throughout Vietnam Thursday, including 22 caught by helicopter gunships. Four Marines were reported killed and 21 wounded.

Storm Warning

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Weather Bureau has issued this severe thunderstorm watch for portions of northwestern Illinois:

"The threat of a few severe thunderstorms with large hail and damaging winds will exist from 2 p.m. CDT until 8 p.m. CDT Friday."

"The severe thunderstorms are expected in an area along and 60 miles either side of a line from 40 miles west southwest Kirksville, Mo., to 40 miles south southeast of Rockford, Ill."

Foreign correspondents who had witnessed numerous demonstrations at embassies here in recent years said they had never before seen such protection as that provided today by some 1,000 Red army soldiers and police.

In addition to the protective ranks in front of the embassy, an advance line of troops and police was set more than a block away, on the street to the subway station where the demonstrators formed up. The students were allowed through this line so they could march in front of the embassy.

The iron gates of the embassy were closed. Special shutters were put behind windows on the first five floors of the 10-story building to prevent injury from flying glass.

Some of the students were clearly angered that Soviet forces prevented them from getting at the embassy building.

A few students headed toward the defense lines as if they would try to break through but were pulled back by student leaders in a series of small scuffles.

The Cuban students began a separate rush at the defense lines but they too were pulled back by other students, apparently Russian.

Foreign students reported there had been fistfights between Arab and Russian students at Moscow University over the past two days, apparently over Arab charges that the Soviet Union had not done enough to support the Arab side in the Middle East war.

crease in the foundation level for public schools from $330 to $400 per pupil per year. The proposal was endorsed by Kerner, a Democrat; the School Problems Commission, bipartisan; Senate President Pro Tem W. Russell Arrington, Republican, and House Speaker Ralph T. Smith, Republican.

Even with an increase of 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the qualifying rate, the $400 foundation level was expected to cost $265 million, according to Kerner, or $231 million, according to some GOP lawmakers.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ray Page, a Republican, first proposed the in-leadership was committed to the $400 figure, some rank and file Republicans eyed the foundation level increase as an opportunity to save a lot of money.

A downstate senator pointed out that every dollar sliced from the foundation level would cut more than $3 million from state aid.

Schools, Mental Health Center Work Together

By STANLEY WEBER
Superintendent, Dixon
Public Schools

The potential for the Dixon Public Schools and the Sinissippi Mental Health Clinic working together for the good of the boys and girls in our community is unlimited.

Our school system has employed a full-time psychologist for only two years and a social worker for one year. The clinic is just completing one year of operation, and it employs a psychiatrist in addition to psychologists and social workers for use by all residents of Lee County in need of their services.

There are basically three types of services which Sinissippi has provided to supplement the school district program.

First, our school psychologist periodically asks the Sinissippi psychologists to examine a child when he is uncertain of his diagnosis of a mental health problem. This is similar to what a medical doctor may do when he is uncertain about his diagnosis of a physical health problem.

Second, we ask for assistance when the problem of a particular child seems to be just one part of a problem which involves the entire family—parents and children.

Third, assistance is requested when a child's problem is very serious. We believe that teachers, counselors, principals, the school psychologist, and school social worker can do more harm than good when they attempt to provide therapy without having the proper training.

Our school system has a competent staff for diagnosis and limited therapy. We need assistance in providing both the quantity and quality of therapy which can be provided by the Sinissippi Mental Health Clinic. In fact, the professional staff will need to be increased if the children with serious mental health problems are to be adequately served in Dixon.

There should be no problem with respect to duplication of effort because certain members of both organizations meet periodically to discuss mutual concerns.

The people of our community are to be congratulated for their moral and financial support of the special services provided by the Dixon Public Schools and the Sinissippi Mental Health Clinic.

Fine Dixonite On Two Charges

Terry Herzog, 20, 916 Ninth St., today was fined a total of $50 in Magistrate Court after pleading guilty to a charge of battery and one of assault.

Herzog was arrested Thursday by Dixon Police on complaints signed by Mrs. Donna Thomas and Mrs. Dolores Owen, both of Dixon, stating he hit or attempted to hit their sons.

The offenses occurred in the 900 block of Ninth Street, according to the complaints.

Deaths and Funerals

Oren F. Rainwater

ROCHELLE — Oren F. Rainwater, 49, Metamora, a resident of Rochelle for 20 years, died Wednesday in Kankakee.

Mr. Rainwater was born Jan. 7, 1918, in Keenes, the son of Oliver and Margaret E. Fry Rainwater, and married Elizabeth Chambers in Atlanta, Ga., on March 11, 1943.

A veteran of World War II, he moved to Rockford from Rochelle in 1947 and, since 1964, had been a service representative of Chrysler Corp. in Metamora.

Mr. Rainwater was a member of the Christian Church, Metamora.

Survivors include his widow; two daughters, Mary Ann and Rosemarie, both at home; his parents of Monroe Center; three brothers, Ross, Monroe Center; Thomas, Rockford, and Gail, Milwaukee, and four sisters, Mrs. Andrew (Bonnie) Jones, Mrs. Kenneth (Virginia) Swenson and Mrs. Roger (Vergene) Beckman, all of Rockford, and Mrs. Ernie (Kathleen) Miller, Creston.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the Unger Funeral Home, with the Rev. Clifford Janssen, Metamora, officiating. Burial will be in Monroe Center Cemetery.

Visitation will be from 7 to 9 p.m. today in the funeral home.

William F. Arens

POLO — William F. Arens, 85, a long-time resident of rural Polo, died this morning in KSB Hospital, Dixon, after a short illness.

Mr. Arens was born Jan. 5, 1882, in Polo, the son of Peter and Mary Arens, and married Ann Schryver in 1907.

He was a member of the Elkhorn EUB Church.

Survivors include his widow and a sister.

Funeral services will be held at 3:15 p.m. Monday in the Elkhorn EUB Church, with the Rev. Harold Flessner, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Brick Cemetery adjacent to the church.

Friends may call after 2 p.m. Sunday in the Woodin Funeral Home, Milledgeville.

Dr. Florence G. Billig

POLO — Dr. Florence G. Billig, 79, a former resident of Polo, died June 2 in the Desert Craft Retirement Home, Phoenix, Ariz., where she had lived for four years.

Dr. Billig was born in Foreston Jan. 2, 1888, and retired in 1957 from the Detroit, Mich., school system. She held a Ph.D. degree in education.

Survivors include a brother, Frank, Los Angeles, Calif.

Funeral services were held in Phoenix, Ariz., Monday. The body was returned here for burial in Fairmount Cemetery.

A 1 cent tax increase would yield $436 million, a Republican estimated. But at least $100 million of that would have to go to cities, he said.

Possibilities mentioned by legislators as other potential sources of increased revenue included a 1 cent increase in the cigarette tax, worth $30 million; an increase from 4 per cent to 5 per cent in the utilities tax, worth $47 million; an increase from $1.52 per gallon to $2.02 per gallon in the liquor tax; and $30 million, or a $10 million increase in the levies on harness and thoroughbred race tracks.

Barn Burns; Fire Threatens House

The home of Hugh Hermes, three miles south of here on Ill. 26, was threatened by fire Thursday emanating from a barn just south of it which Hermes set afire to burn down. After Hermes set the fire, the wind shifted and flames fell onto an adjacent garage and storage shed. Dixon rural firemen were called to extinguish the fire in the shed and garage and to prevent it from spreading until the 30 feet by 30 feet barn burned to the ground. No estimate of damage was given. Dixon city firemen also responded to a call to the fire.

break out of encirclement in the Sinai Desert near the Suez Canal city of Ismailia. Peace was reported restored 2½ hours later.

Syria called an urgent meeting of the U.N. Security Council and informed sources said it wanted nothing but an urgent order for a cease-fire on its frontier with no strings attached—an indication the Syrian armed forces might be taking a beating.

Who started the Syria-Israeli fighting was not clear, and each side blamed the other. But all indications were that large scale fighting was underway with each side using planes, tanks, infantry and artillery in the area above the Sea of Galilee.

Damascus Radio interspersed its victory broadcasts with communique after communique claiming "heavy human and material losses" by the invading Israeli armies and exhorting the Syrians to fight on.

Few Details

It gave few concrete details of the battle's progress.

Israel announced first that Syria had launched a large scale attack in the rich farming areas above Lake Tiberias (the Sea of Galilee) and that its forces moved to meet it. Syria announced shortly afterwards Israel had attacked. Later it spoke of invasion.

Israel was sparse with its communiques.

It said Syrian artillery had shelled the towns and villages of Gonen, Lheavot-Habashan and Shamir in the border region 18 miles north of the Sea of Galilee and that Israel retaliated with "counter measures."

The artillery positions behind the Syrian side have since been knocked out, Israeli military sources said in Tiberias.

The fighting was concentrated in the plain extending north of the Sea of Galilee and around Lake Hula which forms the headwaters of the Jordan and is surrounded by marshy land. Israeli farmers draining the land have been fired on many times by Syrians just across the border.

Ignored Syria

In the past Israel has used planes to bomb and strafe the Syrian artillery but in the opening stages of the five-day-old war it concentrated its full military might against Jordan and Egypt, crushing those armies, while almost contemptuously ignoring the Syrian threat.

Syria announced at 12:40 a.m. EDT it was accepting the U.N. ceasefire, but only an hour before that an announcement on Damascus Radio called on the Palestinian commandos to go into action against Israel.

Dixon Man Fined

William Keyes, 47, 842 N. Forest Drive, today was fined $100 and costs in Magistrate Court after pleading guilty to disorderly conduct.

Keyes was arrested Thursday night by Dixon Police on a complaint signed by his wife, Eunice, stating he created a disturbance at their home by using offensive language and threatening to hit her.

Fined for OMVI

Circuit Judge James E. Bales today fined a 35-year-old Walnut man $200 and costs for driving while intoxicated after denying a defense motion for a new trial.

Fined was Leonard Howard who was found guilty of the charge June 1 by a Circuit Court jury here. Howard was arrested by Dixon Police April 23 while driving a car on Hennepin Avenue, near First Street.

Rock Falls Youths in Court Today

Three Rock Falls youths arrested Wednesday by Dixon Police on charges of deceptive practice or attempted fraud appeared before Magistrate Morey Pires today for hearings.

Joseph Daniel Crump, 18, 209 Fourth Ave., pleaded guilty to a deceptive practice charge of cashing a $14 bogus check at the Hank Henry Store here and had his case continued until Monday for a hearing on aggravation and mitigation.

Mel Earl Auman, 16, Rt. 1, entered no plea on a charge of attempted fraud in connection with Charles Ray Stanfield, 17, 209 Fourth Ave., who pleaded innocent to attempting to cash a $22 check at Osco Drugs.

Auman, the only one of three who is free on $2,000 bail, had his case continued until June 20 and Stanfield had his continued until June 16.

Dixon Police arrested the trio in downtown Dixon after being called by Commissioner George C. Lamb, who had been told by local businessmen that a group of young people were in the city attempting to cash checks.

An investigation by police revealed the checks, drawn on a Sterling bank, were invalid.

Out-of-State Men Fined

Two men who earlier this week pleaded guilty to charges of defrauding an innkeeper were each fined $100 and costs in Magistrate Court today.

Fined were Stanley Tufts, 37, of California, and Jack Guyette, 47, of New York. When arrested, the men told authorities they were from Chicago.

Each was charged on complaints signed by Paul Potts, owner, Lincoln Lodge and Lincoln Manor, stating the pair left the motel without paying their room rent or telephone bills.

Robert Bales, state police detective, testified during today's hearing, that Guyette was presently wanted by California authorities on four counts of forgery and by Winnebago County for fraud.

Agent Bales also said Tufts is wanted in DeKalb and Kane Counties for defrauding an innkeeper. The pair was remanded to jail in lieu of paying their fines.

Detective Bales also testified that an investigation is still continuing against the men for allegedly selling false magazine advertising for a Springfield company which told authorities they were not employed there.

Bales said the men were checking into various motels throughout Illinois and contacting local businesses to sell phony advertising.

Magistrate Pires in imposing the fines said because the men appeared to have no previous records, and because they have not been tried on the new allegations, he would not impose the maximum penalty. The pair could have been sentenced to 30 days in jail or fined $100 or both.

Nachusa Youth Is Sentenced

A 20-year-old Nachusa youth was sentenced to seven days in County Jail today by Magistrate Morey Pires after pleading guilty to driving while his license was suspended.

In jail is Daniel Lee Lengquist, who was arrested Thursday by Dixon Police while driving a car "on the streets of Dixon," according to the complaint.

the committee said, there will be 3,464,302 military personnel in all the services, including 1,521,000 in the Army, 762,300 in the Navy, 294,900 in the Marine Corps and 887,100 in the Air Force.

New equipment provided for the Army includes 1,479 aircraft. The Navy's money would support an active fleet of 938 ships and 8,878 active aircraft. The Air Force would have an active inventory of 14,038 aircraft, including 600 big B32 bombers. New planes to be procured include more controversial F111 bombers for the Air Force and the Navy.

Included in the bill was financing for the Nike-X anti-ballistic-missile system.

The committee wrote into the bill a proposition for an average strength of not less than 400,000 for the National Guard and a ban against merger of the Guard and Army Reserve.

Nation's Draft Law

How Proposed Plan Will Work

EDITOR'S NOTE — Scores of proposed changes in the nation's military draft law have been bandied about in recent months. New congressional negotiators have reached agreement on a proposed new law expected to win final approval soon. Here, in question and answer form, are details of how the proposed plan would work.

By ROBERT A. HUNT
WASHINGTON (AP)—The proposed new military draft law Congress is whipping into shape makes it easier for college students to win deferment.

And it permits President Johnson to go ahead with his announced plan to put 19-year-olds at the top of the available manpower pool. The present procedure drafts men in inverse order of age from 25-year-olds on down, but Vietnam war demands have brought the age of inductees down to 19 or 20 in many draft board districts already. The proposed new law, approved this week by Senate and House conferees, would go into effect for four years starting July 1.

Appeals

It also provides for a speed-up in settling appeals from local draft board decisions, preserves the virtual autonomy of local draft boards and prohibits the President from changing the present selection system without another law. Johnson had proposed a national lottery plan of random selection.

College students who now must make a case before their local draft board to obtain a deferment—and then stay in the top half of their class to keep the deferment—hereafter would be deferred as a matter of legal right if they request.

And they wouldn't have to maintain a high scholastic standing. They would have to keep up with their classes and meet the academic and other standards of their school.

Here are some of the questions most often asked about the proposed new law and the answers as supplied by congressional draft experts:

Q. Does it make any changes in the present priority categories for induction?

A. No. These priorities are determined by local draft boards under presidential regulations. The President has said top priority for induction will be the 19-year-old group, preceded by students whose temporary deferments have expired. Top priority now are the 25-year-olds.

19-Year-Olds

Q. When would the 19-year-old priority go into effect?

A. Whenever the President

orders it. He could change his mind, but Congress has expressed its favor for taking the younger men first.

Q. Why the emphasis on 19-year-olds?

A. Combat commanders generally prefer that most of their new recruits be in the younger age brackets, saying they are more adaptable to training. Problems associated with family dependency are less frequent at such ages.

Q. What are the chances of being drafted at age 19?

A. Statistics show that about two of every seven persons now eligible for induction actually are drafted. The Pentagon expects to meet all of its monthly draft requirements from the 19-year-old group and from students whose deferments have ended. An estimated two million males reach age 19 annually.

Q. If a young man isn't drafted at age 19, what are the prospects for being inducted later?

A. If he gets past 19 and world conditions don't get worse, his chances of not being inducted are very good. A new crop of 19-year-olds will go into the eligibility pool ahead of him.

Q. Would 19-year-old fathers or husbands be deferred?

A. Not automatically. Their local draft boards could defer them if extreme hardship would result from induction.

Q. What basic change would the new law make?

A. The major change affects students. The proposed new law would require draft boards to grant deferments upon request for undergraduate students pursuing fulltime courses and meeting their schools' academic and other requirements. The deferment would be a matter of right. The old law left it to the discretion of draft boards and conditioned the deferment on the registrant remaining in the upper half of his class. Satisfactory scholastic standing, rather than high standing, is the new condition.

Q. How long would the deferment last?

A. It would end when the student completed his undergraduate work, left school or reached age 24, whichever comes first. But if he became 24 in the middle of an academic year, he would be allowed to complete the year.

Q. What would happen after a student completes his undergraduate work or becomes 24?

A. He immediately returns to the pool of registrants most likely to be inducted and would remain in that status for one year.

Q. Could such a student get another deferment?

A. The new law says there shall be no further deferment except for extreme hardship. It would be up to his local draft board to decide whether he merits a hardship deferment. Being a husband or father would not give him an automatic deferment.

Q. Does the proposed new student deferment procedure apply only to future students or does it affect those already in school?

A. It would apply to all.
Q. What would happen to a student who becomes 24 before completing his four years of undergraduate work?

A. He would be eligible for immediate induction.

Handyman Is Indicted in Two Murders

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A Springfield handyman was indicted Thursday by a Sangamon County Grand jury on charges of murdering two men and dismembering their bodies.

A 24-count indictment charged Stuart Kol, 42, with the murders of Merle Hornstein, 36, of Springfield, and Basil Worthington, 67, of Chicago.

The torsos of both victims and the head of one were found April 28 in a shallow grave southwest of Springfield by two mushroom hunters. Two arms identified as those of one of the victims were recovered Tuesday from the Sangamon River. Other parts of the bodies were not found.

Hornstein's widow told police her husband and Kol quarreled April 26 after Hornstein ordered Kol off his property. The two men disappeared after leaving the Hornstein home in a small truck April 27.

Kol was arrested the day the bodies were found and has been held in jail.

Drug Firms May Be Subpoenaed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Some of the nation's largest drug companies faced the possibility today of being subpoenaed by Senate investigators to explain pricing policies for prescription drugs.

The Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association (PMA) took off its gloves Thursday as the Senate small business monopoly subcommittee ended its second round of hearings on rising drug costs.

The panel has focused on the price difference between generic-name drugs and chemically identical — but more costly — tradename counterparts.

"Witnesses thus far have presented individual opinions and, in some cases, misstatements of fact which in our opinion severely distort reality," PMA President C. Joseph Stetler said in a letter to Chairman Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.

Firms Refuse

But Nelson said representatives of three drug firms refused when asked to testify before the panel. Another subcommittee member, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., suggested compelling the companies to testify if they continue to refuse.

Although it insists the hearings have been distorted, the PMA was not willing to comment when asked by UPI if any of its 140 member firms would willingly appear before the subcommittee.

Nelson said the PMA would be invited to testify but added that he wouldn't fall "for that old game" where an industry association dodges important questions by claiming it can't speak for individual companies, only the industry as a whole.

Nelson may take formal steps next week to insure that companies figuring in the hearings appear to present their viewpoints.

Post Commander Thanks Residents

Paul Scheuermann, commander, Dixon Post of the American Legion, today said he wished to thank merchants and others who purchased blocks of tickets providing many children with the opportunity, they otherwise would not have had, of attending the circus which was in town Tuesday.

This float won the President's trophy in the 1966 Petunia Festival parade. The first two Petunia Festival parades have been great successes because of the number and variety of entries and festival officials hope this year's parade will be even better. The big parade will follow the same route as last year starting on West Third Street and moving east to Peoria Avenue then turning north and marching to Lincoln Statue Drive where the route will lead west along the drive and onto Page Drive with the terminal point being in Borden Field. The parade marshal, E. L. Fazzi, says all units must continue on to the Borden Field to be eligible for prizes since final judging will take place there. The parade will be held July 2 at 2:30 p.m.

Snags Stall McCormick Place Rebuilding Plans

CHICAGO (AP)—Nearly five months after fire ruined McCormick Place, wreckers still are dismantling the remains, and there's an empty ache in Chicago's pride and in its pocketbook.

The brave plans announced the day after the Jan. 16 blaze, to restore the 10-acre building—and add 204,000 square feet of floor space in the bargain—have hit two snags.

And while officials wrestle with the problems, super exhibitions and conventions are being booked elsewhere.

Chicago still does a booming convention business at the reliable old International Amphitheatre, but it has lost the trade of several hundred thousand potential visitors.

Issue Flash Flood Warnings In Two States

By United Press International
Flash floods threatened eastern Nebraska and western Iowa today after violent downpours earlier in the day deluged parts of the region with more than four inches of rain in less than an hour.

Flash flood warnings were issued for the Big Blue River in Nebraska, which rose to flood-tide during the heavy rains. Residents of Crete, Neb., were warned to be alert for rapid rises in the river.

Flood warnings were also posted along the Salt Creek Basin from Lincoln to Ashland, along the Papillion River from Omaha to Fort Crook, and on the lower reaches of the Platte River, all in Nebraska.

The Supermarket Institute convention, which draws 10,000 grocers and businessmen in related fields, was transferred to Cleveland. The annual meeting of the Trunk Body Equipment Association moved to Detroit.

A mammoth industrial show, the Railway Progress Exposition, was canceled.

The fire that virtually leveled McCormick Place struck only hours before the National Houseware Manufacturers' Association. An estimated total of $100 million worth of exhibits was lost.

However, the big housewares show was put together again and booked for June 12-16 in the International Amphitheatre. It is expected to draw 60,000 persons.

The Chicago Convention Bureau estimated these losses cost the city $30 million.

McCormick Place was opened in November, 1960, at the Lake Michigan end of 23rd Street. Beside providing exhibit space the size of six football fields, it boasted food-service facilities for 30,000 persons plus a 605-seat restaurant and a cafeteria capable of serving 1,800 meals an hour. In its south end was the 5,000-seat Arie Crown Theater for concerts, ballet and other cultural performances. It held 23 meeting rooms, a recital hall and an art gallery.

With its steel and reinforced concrete construction, it was hailed as fireproof.

The fire, however, fed on tons of flammable light wood, paper and cloth used for exhibit booths and decoration, and the effect was that of a furnace blaze. Steel pillars and trusses twisted and collapsed.

Damage-loss claims totaling $29.6 million were filed with insurers by the Metropolitan Fair and Exposition Authority.

But the claims were called excessive by Donald H. Merishon, spokesman for the insuring companies, and detailed negotiations in the dispute have delayed receipt of restoration funds.

Another delay has developed as engineering tests have shown much more extensive damage than first estimated, especially in the Arie Crown Theater section, which was thought to have escaped major damage.

Ed Lee, manager of McCormick Place, said engineers were finding serious structural damage. He declined to fix a target date for completion of a restored McCormick Place.

Gerald G. Sanderson, executive director of the Chicago Convention Bureau, says an optimistic goal might be in early 1969.

Nasser Shadow of Russian Designs

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser deserves a chapter in a book that will have to be written about the way we misread the news.
Typically, and like Castro, the attention he attracts covers up the over-all Soviet design, so vast that millions among us are weakened because we cannot grasp what's happening to us or why.
What many apparently do not see is that the Soviet has placed the United States in what is fundamentally a Maginot Line position.
The Russians have Oriental patience, and the cold war — turned hot from time to time in various strategic places — is a conflict in which victory goes to the tortoise and not the hare.
Our Sino-Soviet enemy moves like a good general moves on the battlefield. They take one pivotal position to dominate the next pivotal position.
They took Berlin, and have stayed there. Enormous Red forces stand only 83 miles from the Rhine. In fact, the Iron Curtain is the line to which the Red Army advanced and has stayed. Thus lodged, they can move against us in Europe, overnight and at any time.
The Mediterranean is a lake separating Europe and Africa. Soviet strategy has been to advance along the North African land bridge from Asia on the south rim of the Mediterranean. Nasser is the Soviet's Castro there.
What we are witnessing in the Soviets' Egyptian lodgement is the military-political outflanking of Europe that leaves Europe faced with a second front—the Iron Curtain to the East and the Egyptian-North African line to the south. This also gives the Soviets control of what shipping will pass through the Suez Canal.
The Arab world is unorganized and probably unorganizable — except on an anti-Israel basis. The Soviet Union knows it has us over a barrel in our Israeli position. If Nasser can topple the regimes in Jordan, Yemen and Saudi Arabia by his appeal, the Soviet can acquire air and naval lodgements now used by the British and ourselves that dominate the entire Indian Ocean area. This area is the source of 70 per cent of Europe's free world oil.

TAYLOR

Africa is the hinterland of Asia. The Soviet lodgement on the island of Zanzibar opens all of East Africa to Soviet support by sea. Whatever type of defense the Africans employ (if any), it is clear that the nations of Africa cannot escape the Soviet strategic pressures.
Simultaneously, the Soviet navy during the past 10 years has been developed from a landlocked, defensive coastal fleet into a deep-water navy keyed to offensive concepts.
Using off-shore anchorages, it roams the seas of the world — cruisers, the lethal Kunda-class missile frigates carrying atomic warheads, atomic and conventional submarines, all with their tender ships and all fit to threaten or to fight. These roaming forces trail and harry our naval concentrations in the Caribbean, the Mediterranean, the Sea of Japan, the East China Sea, the Gulf of Alaska, our Atlantic and Pacific seaboard, and off Scotland, Spain and Guam.
Under our peace treaty we demilitarized Japan. The Reds struck South Korea on Sunday, June 25, 1950, at four o'clock in the morning — and have still pinned down large U.S. forces in far-off Korea for the 17th year. The Korean front is the counterpart of the Berlin front.
Meanwhile, Cuba — 90 miles from Florida and inside our own Caribbean defense perimeter — remains a Soviet bastion fringed with fire. Well lodged there, the Soviet has shifted its aggressions from Cuba to Vietnam. The Vietnam war expands the Soviet lodgements and vastly adds to our strategic strains. So now the Kremlin says we must accept defeat in Vietnam and trade our NATO alliance for a nuclear nonproliferation treaty. This is merely another round in the rounding out of the global design.
Nasser's place in this immense picture is Nasser's true importance to us. In manipulating the pressures against the free world the Red rule is: "Never let the steam out of one sequence without getting another going."
The fundamental threat to our overextended United States is the Soviet strategic achievement by which it holds the initiative — invaluable against us — and can put all its pawns into motion from all far-flung sides and at the same time.

The Doctor Says

Although high blood pressure is usually considered a disease of persons who are past 40, it may occur in children. When it does it is important to determine the cause. The most common type is that associated with acute nephritis. Other causes include congenital narrowing of the aorta, overactivity of the thyroid and tumors of the adrenals.
When no cause can be found the condition is called essential hypertension. The blood pressure in a child with this symptom is usually subject to wide fluctuations — high when the child is excited or apprehensive and normal when he is calm. If the sight of a doctor or a blood pressure apparatus makes him apprehensive, it may be difficult to get a normal reading except when he is asleep. Such a child is likely to have a high blood pressure all his life unless it is treated.
The first line of treatment is to remove the cause if possible. This should be combined with treatment to keep the diastolic pressure or lower reading within normal limits at all times. Cutting down the salt intake is an important part of the treatment of these children.
Q—I have a severe backache and curvature of the spine. Can the curvature be corrected? I am 54 years old and have worn a brace on my back for three months but it hasn't helped. My doctor wants to operate. What do you advise? Will the curvature cause arthritis?
A—Spinal curvature may be lateral (S-shaped), swayback or humpback and may vary widely in severity. Mild degrees require no treatment. It can be corrected in childhood by means of exercises and a brace of body cast but if not corrected before growth is complete such treatment is of little use.
It would not cause arthritis but arthritis may occur as an added feature. If you have had the curvature all your life, it is not the cause of your backache. Slipped disk is the commonest cause of backache in adults. Arthritis and sprains are runners up. Of these causes only a slipped disk would require surgery and for this condition an operation is highly recommended.
Q—I am taking Serax for my nerves and Eutron for high blood pressure. Are there any side effects from these drugs?
A—Oxazepam (Serax) is a sedative. It may cause drowsiness, jaundice, dizziness or headache and should be used with caution by persons who are past 50. Anyone taking it should have a periodic blood count. When the use of the drug is discontinued, this must be done gradually.
Eutron may cause weakness, dizziness, palpitation, drowsiness and dryness of the mouth. It should not be taken by persons who have an overactive thyroid, kidney disease or who are pregnant. Anyone who is taking the drug should avoid aged cheese and certain other drugs. You should, therefore, make sure your doctor knows in detail what drugs you are taking.

"All right—what ELSE do you want to do besides mortify your parents and enrage authorities?"

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I do not want to go into detail here because too many people would guess the identity of our family, but here are the veiled facts.
My wife always has at least three sets of excuses for the hours when no one can locate her. She is a beautiful woman, intelligent and charming — a fine hostess and a good mother.
I have turned up some pretty good evidence that she has been having affairs with two of my friends and another man from a nearby city. When I confronted her with the evidence she became hysterical and denied everything. Now she wants me to give her truth serum (under the supervision of a physician, of course) so she can clear herself.
Do you know anything about these truth serums? Are they 100 per cent reliable? Please tell me. — RAZOR'S EDGE

Dear Edge: Truth serum tests have proven to be something less than perfect. Recently, the New York Psychiatric Institute experimented with employees who volunteered to be tested. They were supplied with a ready-made lie and were promised $5 if they would stay with the lie under amobarbital. Most of them did stay with it while under the influence of the truth serum and collected the $5. So—draw your own conclusions.

Dear Ann Landers: My father and my brother never got along. Now my father has thrown my brother out of the house. He lives with my sister and her husband, who were kind enough to take him in.

Last week my father made up two new rules. I cannot see my brother and I am not allowed to go to my sister's house when my brother is there. This means I can never see my brother and the only time I can see my sister or her family is when my brother is out. I am supposed to call and check before I go.

Ann, I love my brother and I want to see him sometime, even if he and my dad don't get along. My father says he is no longer his son; but he is still my brother. Please tell me what to do.—BROKEN FAMILY
Dear Broken Family: The difficulty your father had with your brother was between them and you should not be involved in the punishment. An aunt or an uncle or your clergyman should speak to your father and get him to junk the two new rules. They are grossly unfair and you can tell him I said so.

Dear Ann Landers: A friend of mine (college chum) died suddenly three months ago and left a 12-year-old daughter. The grieving husband is going through a difficult period. His lovely home is maintained by a housekeeper, but things are still far from what they were when his dear wife was alive.

The problem is that his two sisters-in-law who live in another city keep sending their children over on weekends to cheer up the 12-year-old girl and take her mind off her mother's death. The man confided that these visiting kids are running him ragged. They create problems with his housekeeper (she resents cleaning up after them) and he wishes they would stay home.

Should I tell them? — WANTING TO HELP

Dear Wanting: No, he should tell them that if they really want to be helpful, they should invite the motherless girl to their homes.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Only Reds To Gain By Egyptian Victory

Once more war has broken out in the Middle East. The Arab states, dedicated to their own form of Hitlerian genocide, have set out to destroy the Israelis and return the Holy Land to the conditions of disease and poverty which were its way of life before the modern and enlightened Jewish state was established there.
If the Israelis are exterminated, as President Nasser and the other Arab heads of state are determined to do, the entire world will be the loser. And before this senseless and brutal act has been accomplished, the Arab states themselves will be crippled and torn. Only the Soviet Union and its Communist followers will profit, for the Leninist-Stalinist strategy depends for its success on the tragedy and misery of men.
But who is to blame? Why has the Kremlin been able to act with impunity, certain that it could arm the Arabs and incite them to violence with no possible retribution? The Soviet leaders are careful men and do not risk their necks, military or diplomatic, without good reason. The answer, of course, is that they have learned over the years that the United States, even when its interests are directly involved, will rarely move with decision and purpose in a crisis. They have also learned that the leftward tug of Administration policy makers will condition, if not compromise, American reaction to Communist moves.
Two instances remain fresh in Soviet memory. The first was the long delay and the systematic equivocation that preceded administration action against the missiles set up on Cuban soil, just 90 miles from mainland America. The second instance was the alacrity with which this country, under President Kennedy, closed down its missile bases in Turkey. Were those missiles emplaced today, the Soviets would not move naval units through the Bosphorus and into the Mediterranean so fearlessly.
In the present Middle Eastern war the United States is directly involved. It was President Eisenhower, along with Moscow's threats, who forced the Israelis to withdraw from soundly strategic positions in the Sinai Peninsula during the 1956 crisis. It was also Mr. Eisenhower who compelled Britain and France to withdraw from Suez, giving both the Soviets and the Egyptians a victory when the latter had been soundly defeated by Israeli arms.
The United States has guaranteed the territorial integrity of Israel and the right of innocent passage to the Gulf of Aqaba. Those guarantees are in writing, along with President Johnson's condemnation of Egyptian belligerence and the violation of international law in closing the Gulf to world shipping. Yet, now that the Israelis are embroiled in a war to defend themselves from a long series of provocations, and of raids on their territory by military units from Arab nations, the administration announces it is "neutral" in the struggle.
As it has done since the onset of the cold war, the United States has followed a policy of blinding itself to unpleasant facts of international life, hoping that the trouble would disappear if ignored. In Vietnam it waited too long before acting. In Israel, the pattern repeats itself as official Washington looks for verbal answers to hot steel. Even with the Congress almost solidly behind some action to defend Israel, the administration vacillates.
Unless the United States interposes its own power in the Middle East, it invites the total extermination of the Jews in Israel, the destruction of a modern and prosperous country, and the triumph of brute power. There are elements within the State Department, sympathetic to Arab nationalism, tinged by anti-Semitism, and solicitous of world oil interests, that would almost welcome this solution to the Arab-Israeli conflict.
But it will spatter on the American escutcheon the dirt of a massive betrayal. Israel came into being largely because of American backing. The two countries have been closely allied. The American people have expressed great sympathy for the problems of the struggling survivors of Nazi cruelties. U.S. responsibility to the Israeli government and people is more than legal. And if Israel falls, history will not assess the blame by reading the speeches of American diplomats at the United Nations. The blame will be laid at America's door and at the feet of the administration now in office.

Mideast Hot Spot Unattended Too Long

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — If the United States had spent more time working on Middle East problems before they exploded, the Egyptian-Israeli war might not have occurred.

There's a lesson here that fits other sore spots around the globe. Today's Middle East problems have been hot for more than two decades. For this whole period a state of war has existed between Egypt and Israel — with only an uneasy armistice usually in effect.

1. Something could have been done about the Arab refugee problem. A million or so Arabs lost their homes and farmlands when Palestine was created. Many of these poor people still live in refugee camps, without hope. They have been natural for recruiting raiders willing to infiltrate Israel.

This problem has drifted now for more than 20 years. It is a barb in the sides of Arab peoples.

Most men who have raided and terrorized in Israel from Syria in recent years were recruited from these displaced Arabs. These raids caused Israel to take reprisals in Syria and Jordan and to threaten more if the terrorist raids continued. These reprisals, in turn, gave Nasser a rallying cry to unite neighboring lands against Israel.

2. Something might have been done about Jerusalem. Arabs say it is a Moslem holy place, as well as Christian and Jewish. They want internationalization.
Part of the city has been in Israel, part in Jordan.

In view of the religious history centered in Jerusalem, a stronger attempt at compromise would have been worth the effort.

3. Something more might have been done about Israeli rights in the Strait of Tiran-Gulf of Aqaba and in the Suez Canal.

The Israelis are hurting because Egypt has kept the Suez Canal closed to their shipping this past decade. Like the Panama Canal, the Suez is an "international" passageway, though entirely in Egyptian territory.

The Israeli consider Egypt's Strait of Tiran blockade an act of aggression. It closes Israel's only sea route to the south.

For the past decade, the United States and the free world have known Egypt had plans for blockading the Strait of Tiran.

As a temporary solution, the United States, Britain and other maritime nations in the late 1950s proclaimed the strait to be an international waterway based on a World Court decision on the Straits of Corfu. U.N. troops blocked Egypt from enforcing the blockade. No real attempt was made to find a permanent solution.

In the last 10 years, a determined effort should have been made to secure some sort of agreement on Tiran and Suez or some permanent international means of guaranteeing free passage through Tiran.

4. More could have been done to reconcile Arab-Israeli differences on the use of water from the Jordan River. The Arabs are angry over the amount of water Israel is withdrawing. Part of the water the Israelis are taking, the Arabs say, rightfully belongs to them.

This reporter was born in a western state which for years has been contesting for Colorado River water. Water rights arouse deep emotions.

There are some administration men who say these issues are not crucial in this crisis. They hold Nasser's actions resulted from his burning ambition to create and lead an Arab coalition and to recoup the status he lost in his quick defeat by the Israeli armies in 1956. They say he has fomented trouble with Israel to achieve his ends.

Be that as it may. If the above problems had been solved, Nasser would have found it more difficult to whip up his people and other Arabs to war pitch.

Couple Married In Kingdom Hall

Miss Ruth J. Kilgore, Dixon, the daughter of Mrs. Ralph C. Kilgore, Albany, and Willis A. Pittman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pittman, Urbana, exchanged wedding vows May 20 in the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, with H. T. Gregerson, minister, performing the ceremony.

Mrs. Wilbur Ransom was organist for the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore an embroidered white slipper satin gown designed in princess style with a sweetheart neckline. Her elbow-length veil was held by a matching headpiece and she carried a cascading bouquet of white gladiolus.

Mrs. James L. Stokes, Sterling, attended her sister as matron-of-honor, and wore a powder blue dress with white accessories, embroidered satin dress with a matching headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of white and blue carnations.

James Stokes attended the groom as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kilgore wore a navy blue. The groom's mother wore a navy blue and white dress, and both wore a corsage of white carnations.

Shower Honors Bride-elect of Mt. Morris Man

MT. MORRIS — Miss Victoria Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schneider, Minonk, the bride-elect of John Finfrock, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Finfrock, Mount Morris, was honored May 28 at a shower given by Mrs. Robert Knope, Rockford.

Green and yellow, the bride-to-be's colors, were used to decorate for the occasion. The gifts were placed in a large box covered with green and yellow crepe paper ruffles and the serving table held bouquets of large yellow daisies and pale yellow tapers in silver candleholders. Refreshments included salad, wafers, and cake squares. The pale yellow cake was frosted in green and each square was accented with a white wedding bell.

Guests honoring Miss Schneider were Mrs. Richard Marks, Mrs. Homer Justice, Mrs. Martin DeKoning, Mrs. Horace Hedgecock, and Mrs. John Finfrock and daughter, Cindy, all of Mount Morris; Mrs. John Schneider and daughter, Michelle, Minonk; Mrs. Harschel Whitebrook, Moline; and Mrs. Mark Rohlf and daughter, Mrs. James Hancock, and Mrs. John Johnson, all of Davenport, Iowa.

Gift cards were read from Mrs. Rodney Miller and Mrs. Gary Nesemeier, Mt. Morris; Mrs. Forest Cook, the Misses Jane and Gayle Whitebrook, Moline; Mrs. James Driessens, Mrs. Barry Frerichs, Mrs. Lyle Frerichs and Miss Sue Nelson, Annawan; and Mrs. Don Curtis, Park Forest.

Miss Schneider and Mr. Finfrock will exchange wedding vows in a ceremony planned for June 24 at St. Mary's Church, Oregon.

DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH

Serving the Heart of Rock River Valley for More Than a Century

LONDON (AP) — The Queen Mary sails on her last transatlantic voyage on Sept. 22, leaving New York for the five-day run to her home port, Southampton.

The giant liner will make two short farewell cruises to Majorca and the Canary Islands after her return to Southampton, winding up her 31 years of service with the Cunard Line on Oct. 19.

"Then, unless someone wants to charter her for cruises, she will either go to the breakage yard or to a new buyer, if someone wants to buy the ship," a Cunard spokesman said.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Chung Hee Park's ruling Democratic Republic party was virtually assured of a two-thirds majority in South Korea's National Assembly today.

About 85 per cent of the vote in the elections Thursday gave the government party 94 seats and it was leading in nine other districts.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India acknowledged for the first time today that its defenses have been bolstered by Soviet SAMs—the surface to air missiles the Russians also supply to North Vietnam.

The annual report of the Defense Ministry said: "Work on installation and operation of surface to air guided weapons and training of personnel in this field has progressed satisfactorily."

Compton News Notes

COMPTON—Mrs. Gene Bradley was honored at a surprise reception Sunday afternoon given by her family, relatives and Mrs. Donald Gilmore in the Methodist Church to celebrate her graduation from Northern Illinois University, De Kalb, Saturday.

She received a bachelor of science degree in education.

Guests were Mrs. Andrew Huffman, Ft. Pierre, S. D., who presided at the punch bowl; Mrs. R. W. Bradley, coffee; Mrs. Russell Dennis, Dixon; and Marianne Bradley, cake; JoAnn Putman, Bellevue, Iowa; and Linda Aughenbaugh, guest book; Linda and Esta Dennis, Dixon; Kristy and Karen Dolan, gift table. The WSCS of the church worked in the kitchen.

Among the 100 guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Dunwoody and Dickie, Spearfish, S. D.; Mrs. Edward Putman and children, Bellevue, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Putman, Maquoketa, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Manning, Savanna; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brewer and sons, Ottawa; Mrs. Larry Little and Jennifer, Litchfield, and relatives and friends from Mendota, West Brooklyn and Compton.

Grange Plans Friday Meeting

OREGON—Blackhawk Grange will meet at 8 p.m. Friday in the Grange Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beard, Mrs. Mary James and B. S. Walker will serve on the committee. Mrs. Carl Beard, chairman, will present a memorial service.

FRIDAY & SATURDAY

Indian possession of the Soviet weapon has been common knowledge for some time. Pakistanis told newsmen during the 1965 war with India that they did not bomb New Delhi because they knew the capital was ringed by SAMS.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — The Pakistani government will consider closing the 12 U.S. Information Agency centers in Pakistan if an opposition charge that they are "dens of CIA activities" is proved "beyond reasonable doubt," a Foreign Ministry spokesman told the National Assembly today.

Opposition members made the charges during question time. The Foreign Ministry spokesman said the government had heard of no cases of "deviations from the generally established norms of publicity."

The spokesman assured members the government "remains constantly vigilant and whenever necessary it takes appropriate action against activities considered prejudicial to the national interest."

He cited American press reports naming a number of organizations in the United States and elsewhere which were alleged to have received financial assistance from the CIA but said "information about their affiliations in Pakistan, if any, is not readily available."

MOSCOW (AP) — A group of 79 Soviet writers had demanded an open debate in the Kremlin-controlled National Writers Congress on literary censorship charges raised by author Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn, informed Soviet sources say.

Solzhenitsyn, author of the novel "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich," charged in a letter circulated privately that secret police have confiscated his manuscripts and prevented him from publishing. The sources said Thursday night that some of the most famous names in Soviet literature submitted a four-page petition to leaders of the congress in Moscow last month demanding debate on Solzhenitsyn's charges.

Solzhenitsyn said he would have raised the issues himself at the congress had he been given an opportunity to speak. He demanded that the organization begin defending authors attacked by Communist party and government cultural authorities.

Legislative Highlights

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois House members voted Thursday to give themselves and their Senate colleagues a $3,000 annual raise, effective with new terms.

The bill, proposing to boost the salaries to $12,000 a year, was sent to the Senate on a 39-17 vote.

Rep. Noble Lee, R-Chicago, a veteran lawmaker, said he didn't like the idea.

He said if annual legislative sessions eventually come into existence, the legislature probably would raise salaries to $15,000 and make the jobs "an attractive plum for the professional politician."

If the bill is enacted, House members would have to wait until 1971 because they were elected to four-year terms in 1966.

Under the bill, the House speaker and senate president pro tem would get an additional $4,000 a year besides their salaries. Leader would receive $1,500 additional.

LEE — Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hilleson honored their son, Steven, at a party Friday after graduation exercises.

The party was held in the Lee American Legion Hall.

Music for dancing was by "The Patriots," a group of young men from Lee and Shabbona.

Guests included relatives from Sycamore, DeKalb and Lee and 30 of Steven's classmates.

Christian Scientists believe that an inspiring and healing understanding of God's love is within reach of every man, woman, and child. It grows and unfolds in your life through consistent study, spiritual searching, deep prayer, and the willingness and constant effort to live by the law of Christ. This is the reason for the Christian Science Bible Lessons, the Reading Room, the church services and Sunday School. You are always welcome.

Attend the Church of Your Faith Regularly

What marvelous buildings has man erected through the centuries. What lofty and inspiring structures has he created.

But how many of these glorious accomplishments stand intact today? We can see famous ruins the world over — mute reminders that what man builds is not permanent.

Today our buildings contain great slabs of concrete holding hidden wire and steel that will not break with stress. But can we be sure that today's creations will be standing a hundred years or two hundred years from now? Of course not.

Of what can we be certain? What does last?

Certainly the gifts of God tower indestructibly today as they have for generations . . . the things of the spirit — faith, hope and love. Our church buildings may crumble or be destroyed, but the fellowship of believers is perpetual throughout the ages.

Discover for yourself the great spiritual truths. Discover for yourself through His Church, those things which endure forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

McLaren, Donohue Are LeMans Race Favorites

By ROBERT AHIER
United Press International

LE MANS, France (UPI)—Bruce McLaren of New Zealand and Mark Donohue of Stony Brook, N.Y., shaped up today as the men to beat in the 35th edition of the gruelling 24-hour Le Mans Grand Prix auto race this weekend.

The two drivers piloting a Ford, became the fastest men on the 8.3 mile track in Thursday night's second and final trials when they scorched round it in three minutes, 24.4 seconds at a hair-raising average speed of 146.9 miles per hour.

They cracked the time set earlier by Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., and Mike Spence of Britain in Chaparral at 3:24.7 for an average of 146.7 MPH.

Both times were faster than the unofficial record set up by the late Lorenzo Bandini of Italy last April during the early Le Mans trials—of 3:25.6 at an average of 146.1 MPH. Bandini died following a crash during last month's Monaco Grand Prix.

Some 20,000 spectators turned out despite the chilly, drizzling weather to watch the trials. Most believed the big battle would be between the Fords and Ferraris with the Chaparral the probable big surprise of the meet and possible winner.

Millionaire Jim Hall of Midland, Texas, owner, builder and designer of the Chaparral, said after the trial, "we will lead as long as we can."

Among other competitors with lesser ambition were the British Lolas and French Mirates, which made reasonable times but made no attempt to compete with the Fords, Chaparrals or Ferraris.

Claude le Guezec, racing manager of the French Matra team, said "what we want is to finish the race. Next year we hope to have a French engine in our car and to go much faster. But this year what we want is to finish."

Another far outsider, Bob Durant of Los Angeles, Calif., driving a Corvette, said "we do not think we can win with a standard car but we want to prove that the car can last 24 hours."

Ford's Replacement Wins Second Contest

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

When southpaw Whitey Ford, the New York Yankees' all time winner, retired on Memorial Day, the Yanks dug deep to their Syracuse farm club in the International League and came up with Joe Verbanic to fill his spot on the roster.

Now American League batters are beginning to wonder if they wouldn't be better off with Ford still around.

Verbanic tossed a four hit shutout against the Washington Senators Thursday night to post his second straight victory and give the Yankees the American League lead in shutouts with eight as they posted a 6-0 triumph.

The 24-year-old righthander made his first major league start last Saturday and pitched the Yankees to a 3-1 victory over the league leading Detroit Tigers.

tie and powered the Indians over the Twins. Alvis, who drove in three runs and scored the same number, blasted his eighth homer in the first off Twins' starter Jim Merritt and climaxed a four run Cleveland rally in the ninth with another shot over the left field fence off loser Al Worthington.

Rick Reichardt cracked a two run homer in the sixth inning to give the Angels a come-from-behind triumph over the Orioles.

California took a 4-0 lead in the third on two run homers by Jim Fregosi and Jimmie Hall, but the Orioles collected two in the fourth and three in the fifth to take a 5-4 lead. Frank Robinson hit a two run homer, his 16th in the fourth.

A pair of walks, a sacrifice fly by pinch hitter Vic Roznovsky and singles by Brooks Robinson, Andy Etchebarren and Paul Blair gave Baltimore the lead before Reichardt reached the left field stands with Hall aboard in the sixth.

Horlen Wins Seventh Game

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Hard-working Joel Horlen, who never has won more than 13 games in any of six Chicago White Sox seasons, already has spun more than half that total with his perfect 7-0 mark.

"I guess this is my best baseball start since I had an 18-2 record for the Alpine (Tex) Cowboys in 1958," said the slick right-hander after quelling the Boston Red Sox, 5-2, in a twin bill opener yesterday.

The Alpine Cowboys were runnersup in the national semi-pro tourney in a year that launched Horlen's big league aspirations.

Long regarded a potential 20-game winner, Horlen has not been the luckiest White Sox pitcher in past seasons, consistently losing the close ones.

He had a 10-13 record last year appearing in 37 games. He was 13-13 in 34 appearances in 1965 and 13-9 for 1964 in 32 games.

In scattering six Boston hits yesterday, Horlen posted only his fourth complete game in 10 starts which points up the stout nature of Whix Sox relief pitching.

"The excitement of getting off to a good start wore off when I reached 5-0, but it's still mighty good to stay unbeaten," said Horlen, who pitched cautiously, but effectively against the power-laden Red Sox.

"I woke up yesterday morning stiff across the back of both shoulders and when I warmed up, I never thought I'd make it to the mound," commented the 6-foot, 173-pounder from San Antonio, Tex.

"That's why I had control trouble in the first inning when I walked two batters." Those were the only two walks the control-skilled Horlen yielded.

"I got only 10 curve balls over the plate, but my fast ball and sliders kept me on top of the hitters," said Horlen, who threw a total of 125 pitches.

"I don't think this was one of my best efforts, I thought I was lucky in spots, but I was mighty careful with Boston's big hitters, especially after Joe Foy belted that seventh inning homer."

When Horlen gets careful, White Sox rivals don't have much to nibble on at the plate.

Loves Relief

Verbanic, a bullpen artist throughout his six-year professional career, loves relief but isn't finding starting too hard to take.

"To tell the truth, I really like to relieve," said Verbanic. "Pitching in relief when you're young, you learn to throw strikes and when you're going good, it gets in your blood and you like it." "But," he continued, "I'm beginning to like it as a starter. No matter what though, as long as I'm out there, I'm going to pitch as hard as I can as far as I can."

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago and Boston split a doubleheader, the White Sox winning the opener 5-2 and the Red Sox posting a 7-3 victory in the second game, Cleveland downed Minnesota 7-5, and California edged Baltimore 6-5.

Joel Horlen won his seventh straight game without a loss when Ken Berry and Gerry McNertney cracked home runs to lead the White Sox victory in the opener.

12th Homer

Gary Bell, making his first start for the Red Sox, scattered nine hits and Carl Yastrzemski collected four hits, including his 12th homer, to pace Boston to victory in the nightcap.

The Red Sox bunched five of their 15 hits in the second inning to score five times off Chicago starter Bruce Howard. Joe Foy's two run double was the big blow of the inning.

Max Alvis led off the game with a home run and ended it with another that snapped a 5-5

Kansas Plans Title Defense

By ED AHR
United Press International

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI)—Jim Ryun and his Kansas Jayhawk track club teammates will defend their U.S. Track and Field Federation team title today and Saturday during the outdoor championships at mile-high Albuquerque.

But the host New Mexico Track Club, composed mainly of University of New Mexico athletes, appears a definite threat to unseat the Kansas flash and his running mates. The Jayhawks won the event at Indiana State last year. New Mexico was second.

Chick Werner, executive secretary of the USTFF, stole the spotlight when he announced the two-day meet would not be run with Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) sanctioning.

He disclosed the plan of not asking for sanctioning following questions stemming from last year's meet where Ryun ran a world record 1:44.9 in the 880—only to be refused official recognition because the AAU refused to verify the record beyond the "American mark" status.

The AAU insists on a sanction request in order to verify world records. The USTFF refuses to ask for one because it feels the collegians were given sanction immunity by the special congressional committee called to settle the AAU-NCAA feud.

Werner indicated that Ryun's mark might be recognized once the dispute is settled, but that the USTFF wasn't asking for sanctions of any sort.

Ryun, the world record holder in the mile, is the top athlete entered for the 29-event attraction. However, the New Mexico Track Club gained the services of former world record holder Adolph Plummer when he announced he would run an anchor leg in the mile relay.

Plummer held the world quarter mile until last month when San Jose State's Tommie Smith ran a :44.8.

Trotters Purchased

CHICAGO (AP)—A syndicate headed by Potter Palmer, a major stockholder in the Atlanta Braves baseball team, has purchased the world-famous Harlem Globetrotter pro basketball team for $3,710,000.

Circuit Court Judge Robert Dunne approved the Palmer group's bid Thursday, which was favored by the co-executors of the estate of the former owner, the late Abe Saperstein.

Dunne ruled against two other bids, one for $3.5 million by Metromedia, Inc., and another for $3 million by the Linn Broadcasting Co.

An attorney representing the Saperstein family urged sale to the Tennessee-based Linn group which had promised to keep the Trotters in Chicago and sell 20 per cent of the team's stock to the Saperstein estate.

Palmer, scion of a wealthy Chicago family, said he had no intention of moving the organization from Chicago or changing its operational methods.

In ruling in favor of the Potter group, Judge Dunne said: "Abe Saperstein was a shrewd businessman. He saw fit to give the co-executors (of his estate) discretion to sell his life-time enterprise. I will not interfere with the exercise of that discretion."

The Globetrotters have been one of sports' top entertainment groups, playing before the Pope and royalty and going behind the Iron Curtain many times.

The Dixon American Legion baseball team played to a 4-4 tie in nine innings before the contest with the visiting Rock Falls club was called due to darkness.

Ron Koesler, Weigle and Mumford shared the Dixon hurling honors, allowing eight hits, yielding just one extra base hit.

The contest saw one home run, scored by Koesler with one on. Michaels was the Dixon catcher.

The Rock Falls battery was Hendrix and Mills.

Dixon's P. Hermes banged out a double for the local club's other extra base hit.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By JOE MILLER

Here's a little known fact about Sandy Koufax. Although he became one of the greatest pitchers of all time, if not THE greatest, Sandy's over-all won-lost record actually was worse than average his first SIX full years in the majors! ... Sandy joined the Dodgers in 1955, winning 2 and losing 2; in 1956 his record was 2-4; in 1957 it was 5-4; in 1958 it was 11-11; in 1959 it was 8-6 and in 1960 it was 8-13. ... Thus in those six seasons Koufax won only 36 games while losing 40!

Ever wonder where soccer got its name? ... There were two kinds of football in England in the 1880s. ... One kind allowed a player to run with the ball; the other didn't. ... People got the two games mixed up because they were both called football. ... Finally, the former was named Rugby after the school where it was developed. ... The latter was administered by the London Football Assoc., and was called "Assoc. Football." ... That word "Assoc." then evolved into "soccer."

What's the record for a big league baseball team winning the most games in a row? ... The Giants set that mark in 1916 when they won 26 straight. ... Oddly enough, they did not win the pennant that year.

Soviets Clinch European Title

By United Press International

The Soviet Union has clinched its European zone Davis Cup semi-final match with Chile while Brazil is just one match away from wrapping up its zone battle with Italy today.

Russia took an unbeaten 3-0 lead over Chile Thursday while Brazil took a 2-0 lead over Italy in their best-of-five match and can clinch it today if the doubles combo of Edison Mandarino and Tomas Koch is victorious.

The opening match of the Britain-Spain match was rained out.

Mandarino and Koch will meet Italy's Giordano Maioli and Benedetto Crotta today in the competition at Naples.

Mandarino downed Nicola Pietrangeli 2-6, 9-7, 6-4, 6-3 while Koch whipped Maioli 6-0, 6-3, 7-5 in the two singles matches Thursday.

Pietrangeli, the veteran who hasn't been in top form, took the first set but then couldn't keep up the pace as Mandarino took the final three sets to win easily.

Brazil will advance against the winner of the France-South Africa match if it beats Italy.

Russia's doubles team of Alexander Metreveli and Sergei Likhachev swept past Chile's Pinto Bravo and Patricio Cornejo 7-5, 6-1, 6-2 in Moscow Thursday to clinch the match.

Metreveli and Tomas Lajus had given Russia a 2-0 lead in singles play Wednesday when they were both victorious.

Metreveli will meet Patricio Rodriguez and Lejus battles Bravos in the final two singles matches today that are now meaningless.

Russia will play the winner of the Britain-Spain matches.

Britain's Roger Taylor led Spain's Jose Arilla 3-6, 6-3, 3-2 when the rain came.

Led by Manuel Santana, Spain is favored to advanced against Russia.

The United States is scheduled to move into action June 17-19 against Ecuador in Ecuador.

Assembly Loses First

By PAUL SHOEMAKER

In the first of two games played at Reynolds Field Thursday evening, Robert Vincent, pitcher of Nazarene-Nachusa, hurled a no-hitter, the first of the season. The second game was won by Methodist in five innings.

Nazarene-Nachusa took the first game easily from Assembly-Open Bible, 18-1, in five innings. The three Assembly pitchers were thrashed with control trouble and gave up 18 walks throughout the course of the game. Top hitter for the winners was Gordy Wensel, who had a triple and a single. The winning pitcher was Bob Vincent and the loser was Chuck Peterson.

The second game, also a five inning duel, revealed the solid hitting of the Methodist ball club as they downed First Baptist 15-5. The biggest First Baptist rally came in the third inning when they got three runs on three hits. Paul Waytenick and Dick Dir tied for hitting honors for Methodist with two hits, while Bill Oaks had two doubles for the losers. Winning pitcher was Dir and the loser was Oaks.

F. Baptist	2	0	3	0	5	6	3	0

The next two games to be played will be held Tuesday, June 13, at Reynolds Field at 7:30 p.m. They will feature St. Pat's vs. Immanuel (0-1) and St. Paul's (1-0) vs N. S. Baptist.

Giants Top Reds; Cards, Astros Win

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Ollie Brown seems to have found a rather unique therapy for an anemic batting average—a stretcher ride.

Brown was just struggling to win a starting spot in the San Francisco Giant lineup at the start of the season and his chances didn't look too bright since he hit only .233 last year.

His chances of making it seemed even more remote on May 12 when he was carried off on a stretcher bleeding from the mouth after being hit by Claude Raymond of the Houston Astros.

But Brown came right back to the lineup and while it may have been a coincidence, he suddenly started hitting and hasn't stopped yet.

10th Homer

He continued his hot pace of the last two months Thursday night by clubbing his 10th homer of the season in the sixth inning and then singling in the tie-breaking run in the eighth to lead the Giants to an 8-5 victory over the league-leading Cincinnati Reds.

The victory moved the second place Giants to within three games of Cincinnati.

Sammy Ellis, who entered the game with a five-game winning streak, started the game for the Reds and went 6 2-3 innings although Gerry Arrigo was tagged with the loss. Ellis also returned to the no windup delivery he used last season and the start of this season but didn't give a reason for the switch.

"I don't know why he changed," pitching coach Mel Harder said. But manager Dave Bristol said he thought he was tipping his pitches in his last start.

Bill Henry got the win for the Giants with one inning of relief work.

Elsewhere in the National League, St. Louis topped Houston 6-2 and Atlanta edged Los Angeles 5-4.

Atlanta trailed Don Drysdale and the Dodgers 4-1 in the seventh inning but the Braves rallied and finally pinned the loss on Phil Regan. Clete Boyer doubled in a seventh-inning run off Drysdale and Regan came on and gave up a two-run single to Denis Menke that tied the score. In the ninth Felipe Alou then singled in Menke, who had walked, was sacrificed to second and moved to third on an infield out, to end the game.

Regan, so effective in relief last year with a 14-1 mark, is now 2-3.

Bob Gibson pitched a four-hitter to boost his record to 7-5 as Cards salvaged the final game of their four-game series with Houston. Gibson was touched for two runs in the first and blanked the losers the rest of the way. The Cards tied it with single runs in the second and third innings and Julian Javier then started a three-run sixth inning with a solo homer. Gibson knocked in the final run himself with a bunt single. Larry Dierker started for Houston, went 4 2-3 innings and suffered the defeat.

Bisons Win, Take Lead

By United Press International

The Buffalo Bisons saved the best for last Thursday night.

The heavy-hitting Bisons, held in check for eight innings by Columbus' Jim Shellenback, rallied for three runs in the ninth on homers by Duke Carmel and Stan Swanson to upend the Jets 4-2 and post their third consecutive victory.

The triumph moved the surging Bisons into sole possession of third place in the International League, only 3 1-2 games off the league-leading pace by the Rochester Red Wings, and dumped the Jets into the cellar.

Shellenback, seeking his first victory of the season, carried a 2-1 lead into the ninth but Carmel popped his sixth home run with the bases empty to tie the score. Moments later Swanson drove his second homer and first since April 30, out of the park with a man aboard to wrap it up.

Rollie Sheldon, the last of three Buffalo hurriers, picked up his second victory in as many decisions with one scoreless inning of relief. Manny Jimenez had hit a solo homer in the sixth for Columbus off Dom Zanni to break a 1-1 deadlock created in the third.

Ron Reed, who had forsaken a National Basketball Association career with the Detroit Pistons to devote full time to baseball, posted his third straight victory, all route-going performances, in pitching the Richmond Braves to a 2-1 victory over Syracuse. Reed scattered eight hits in evening his record at 4-4. Mike Lum hit his fourth homer for the Braves.

Jacksonville defeated Rochester 4-2 on the heels of a 17-5 victory Wednesday night and climbed out of the basement. Lefthander Jerry Kossman pitched his second consecutive complete game victory, limiting the Red Wings to nine hits, including Bob Floyd's first home run. Terry Christman offset that blow with his first home run for the Suns.

Jerry Stephenson posted his fourth triumph without a loss as Toronto ripped Toledo 8-2. Stephenson, who received home run support from Tony Torchia, needed ninth inning relief help from Pete Magrini. Losing pitcher George Korince homered for the Mud Hens.

SPORTS BRIEFS

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—The California Angels sold righthander Jim Coates to their Seattle farm club in the Pacific Coast League and recalled southpaws Clyde Wright and Ken Turner. Wright, who played with the Angels most of last season, has an 8-3 record and Turner is 3-2.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The University of Southern California and the University of Oklahoma will renew their football rivalry on Sept. 29, 1973, at the Memorial Coliseum. The schools have met twice with Oklahoma winning 17-12 in 1963 and Southern Cal coming back to win 40-14 in 1964.

Detweiler Injured

NORMAL — Illinois State University's golf team, champion of the Interstate Conference, probably will be short-handed next week when it enters the NCAA Tournament at Paducah, Ky.

Redbird standout Dave Detweiler, a junior from Dixon, broke the third finger on his left hand during an informal softball game with classmates. He was attempting to catch a fly ball.

"Dave still wants to play if he can, but it looks very doubtful," says Coach Milt Weisbecker. The finger is in a cast.

Detweiler's injury dims ISU's hopes of placing in the top 10 of the tourney and giving the Redbirds added golf prestige. Weisbecker's team placed sixth in the NCAA finals two years ago.

This has been a painful season for Detweiler, the Redbirds' leading golfer in 1966. Arthritis has forced him to sit out four matches and has hampered his play in others.

Still, he is averaging 77.7 strokes per round and finished third in the Interstate Conference Tournament after leading at the halfway point of the 72-hole tourney. His average is just a half stroke behind team leader Frank Niepagen, a sophomore from Normal.

If Detweiler is unable to play, ISU will have only five entries in the 72-hole national tourney opening next Monday at Paducah's Paxton Golf Club. This will give the Redbirds no margin for error, since all five will count in team scoring.

The five are Niepagen, Mike Orrison, Tom Jacobsen, Mike Phelan and Bob Lawrence. Niepagen is averaging 77.2 strokes, Orrison and Jacobsen 77.8 each, Phelan 79.2 and Lawrence 82.3.

Orrison, team captain and the squad's only senior, placed seventh in the NCAA Tournament two years ago and was medalist of the Interstate Conference this season. The Redbirds own a season and tourney record of 48 wins, 20 losses, and one tie.

Players qualifying in the top 10 of the NCAA College Division Tournament will be eligible for University Division competition the following week at the Shawnee-on-the-Delaware course in Stroudsburg, Pa. Detweiler won the championship of the Fred Waring Amateur Tournament at that course last summer.

Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—For the record, Gary Player likes Arnold Palmer in next week's U.S. Open.

For the marbles, though, he picks someone else. Himself.

"I want to win it real badly," says Player. "Why? Because it's the most important tournament in the world to me. I'm hitting the ball well and I'm very satisfied with my entire game...Maybe I'd better not say that...People are liable to get the wrong idea."

Player is so anxious to take home his second Open title that he purposely passed up the Buick Open now going on in Flint, Mich., so he could get in some practice licks at the Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, N.J., where the 1967 Open starts next Thursday.

State Of Concentration

When he won his first Open championship in St. Louis two years ago, Player worked himself up into such a state of concentration that even his best friends had trouble recognizing him.

He wouldn't shake hands with anyone; he wouldn't even comment on the weather and the only thing on his mind was the next shot. It paid off, though, even if Player did turn over his entire purse to charity after he won.

"I don't honestly know whether I can achieve the degree of concentration again that I did for the Open in St. Louis," Player admits. "I didn't know where I was half the time in that one. I made up my mind nothing was going to interfere and that was the way it was. It took a whole lot out of me."

Although he hasn't won a single tournament this year, Player has no complaints with the way he has been playing lately.

"I tied for first at Oklahoma City two weeks ago and then lost in a playoff to Miller Barber, and last week I finished fifth at Memphis," he said. "I won $11,000 in those two tournaments, and that satisfies me."

"Earlier this spring I just couldn't get charged up at Augusta. For some reason or other there was a let-down. Now I'm at the stage where I want to play more. I have a good feeling now, the feeling I'm going to win a lot of tournaments."

Until the other day, Player never had set foot on Baltusrol, but now that he's tested it he likes it.

"I find I have to adjust my eyes to the narrower fairways," he said, "but the course is in fine shape. Ordinarily, I'd say the Masters would be the toughest test we compete in, but since there is no rough to speak of in Augusta, I have to say the U.S. Open is tougher."

"And if I had to pick someone to win it next week, I'd pick Arnold Palmer. He's driving well. That doesn't mean I don't like my own chances. I always feel I have a chance to win in every tournament I enter."

278 Should Win

Palmer seemed a cinch to break Ben Hogan's all-time U.S. Open record score of 278 when Billy Casper overtook him at the Olympic Club in San Francisco last year and already they're beginning to make guesses on what it'll take to win this one. The guesses generally run around 278.

Player doesn't know what total will win at Baltusrol but he predicts the pros will be breaking 60 for 18 holes 20 years from now.

"They'll be stronger," he says, "and their nerves will be better."

Purses probably will be better, too. And speaking about that, one wise guy wanted to know if Player intended to give away all the money again should he win next week.

The little South African shotmaker didn't answer.

But he did give the guy a funny look.

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (UPI)—Bob Goalby did something about the rough greens which everyone else was complaining about—he played over them instead of on them.

Goalby, of Palm Springs, Calif., dropped a pair of long, well-played chip shots to go three-under-par with a 69 that gave him a one-stroke lead going into the second round of the 10th Buick Open today.

Many of the players had worried, after taking practice runs over Warwick Hill's recently renovated back nine holes, that the rebuilt greens would run rough. But Goalby, by sinking 40 and 75-foot chip shots, saved himself the trouble of even putting on the 11th and 16th greens.

"The chip-ins were the only reason I was good on the back nine," the 36-year-old veteran said. But he did have some good words for the rest of the back nine—despite the rough greens.

"It's a lot better than I thought it was going to be in just one year," he said. "I wish we could have played here about Aug. 1. It would have been real good by then."

One stroke behind Goalby in the $100,000 tourney were Hugh Royer, Columbus, Ga., and Frank Beard, Louisville, Ky., with 70's. Bunched at one-under-par 71 were Alan Hennings, Johannesburg, South Africa; Lionel Hebert, Lafayette, La. Bob Stanton, Sydney, Australia; and Kermit Zarley, Seattle Wash., who finished in a second-place tie last year.

NBA Settles Pension Issue

CHICAGO (AP) —Owners of National Basketball Association clubs have reached a pension agreement with the league's players association, settling an issue that nearly triggered a players strike during the NBA playoffs last season.

The agreement was announced Wednesday after players from the league's 12 clubs, headed by Oscar Robertson, star of the Cincinnati Royals, met with the owners for approximately an hour.

Commissioner Walt Kennedy, who was awarded a five-year contract with a reported $10,000 annual salary increase to $60,000, said the plan affects all players on the active list as of Feb. 2, 1967.

Under the agreement, players with 10 years of active service will get a maximum of $600 monthly at age 65. Coverage will begin with the player's third year in the league, with those from three to nine years of service getting lesser amounts.

Kennedy said the program specifies that any player who breaches a contract by jumping to another league will forfeit all benefits.

Defending champion Phil Rodgers was well down in the list of golfers with a first-round score of 75. Another strong Buick Open player, Julius Boros, currently the third-leading money winner on the PGA tour, took a par 72.

Goalby, who won the San Diego Open earlier this year, stuck to par over the first eight holes before slipping to his only bogey, a five, on the ninth hole. He bounced back with a 20-foot putt for a birdie on the 10th and went under par by chipping in his 40-footer for a birdie three on the 11th.

After four more par holes, Goalby chipped in his 75-footer on the 16th, taking an eagle three on the long, par-five hole. He stayed at three under par the rest of the way, although his drive shot on the short 17th hole rolled past the cup by only inches—depriving him of a hole-in-one.

Royer had the hard-luck story of the day. He went to the 18th tee four under par but had to take a double-bogey six and settled for a second-place tie one stroke behind Goalby.

Negro Knows Why There's a Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — The phone jingled in the U.S. combat operations center, and a field commander on the other end said with urgency:

"I am on my way down. I have something big. I'll be in to see you. We've got to make a big move."

Ogle County Historical Society Meets

MOUNT MORRIS—Ogle County Historical Society met recently in the United Church of Byron.

The meeting opened with G. A. Terry, vice president, presiding in the absence of Wilbur Light, president.

Dr. Stewart C. Thomson, head of the department of Public Health and Welfare of the University of Minnesota Medical School at Minneapolis was the featured speaker. Dr. Thomson's family were early pioneers of the Byron area. He told of some of the early incidents of Byron history and its people.

Music was furnished by Carl Baumann, who sang two solos, accompanied by his wife, the former Sandy Baker of Byron. They will be returning to Byron in the fall to teach music in Byron schools.

While the field commander could not go into detail over the telephone, the officer in the operations center knew what was up — a big troop movement.

Long before the field commander arrived in Saigon, Maj. Beauregard Brown III, a key officer on Gen. William C. Westmoreland's staff, had swung into action.

Brown alerted the operations officer, then quickly surveyed how many troop transport aircraft he had for the major move prompted by a suspected major assembly of Viet Cong cadre and leaders.

By the time the field colonel arrived in Saigon, Brown had aircraft ready to move a brigade of troops, about 3,000 men. Brown is responsible for supervising logistical support for combat operations in South Vietnam. He is a Negro, and he feels the Negro "has played a very important role in Vietnam, particularly when you contrast it with the role he played in Korea."

"We had turncoats and defectors during the Korean conflict based in part on a fundamental lack of understanding and appreciation of why we were in Korea, a degree of ignorance of the nature of communism and the Communist threat," he says.

"This problem does not exist in Vietnam. The Negro soldier understands why he's here. He understands what this war is about and what is riding in the balance, and he's more motivated to work toward achievement of the desired outcome."

"He has found here in Vietnam unlimited opportunity for individual achievement and accomplishment. He can chart progress from day to day, and he can physically observe the fruits of his efforts."

"I think the only tragedy is people at home don't fully understand and appreciate how critical this struggle is over here and that it does relate to their own security and well being."

"It's not a question of getting out or staying in Vietnam. It's not that simple. If we got out tomorrow, we would have to begin the next day to fight elsewhere. We've got to meet the threat head on right here and meet it decisively."

Amongst those misinformed at home, Brown asserts, is Dr. Martin Luther King.

"He's irresponsible with respect to the war because he has become frustrated, Brown says. "King has to look to other fields to maintain his stature that he has achieved in the field of human relations. Out of sheer frustration he has turned to Vietnam."

He suggests that lack of knowledge "of the complexities of this conflict has driven King to irrational positions."

"I think the outcome of the struggle will determine to a great degree whether there will be peace the rest of the century," Brown says. "I think nuclear war is out of the question. Once we've proved here that

"What I'm trying to say is that the Viet Cong have made their point. They have alerted Southeast Asia. I think the Viet Cong are trying to get the message across that they are intolerant of the conditions under which they live — not enough food, disease, social injustice, poverty, lack of medical care."

"They have alerted the whole world. I think the outcome of this war will bring together not only the East and West, but the whole world. The Viet Cong don't truly appreciate the fact they are being decisively defeated."

Today is Friday, June 9, the 160th day of 1967. There are 205 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1940, the Norwegian army surrendered to the invading Nazis.

On this date: In 68, the Roman emperor, Nero, committed suicide.

In 1815, the Congress of Vienna ended.

In 1870, the English writer, Charles Dickens, died.

In 1942, a joint War Production and Resources Board was set up by the United States and Britain.

In 1948, President Harry S. Truman stirred up a controversy when he said in a Spokane, Wash., speech the 80th Congress was the worst in the nation's history.

In 1956, the White House announced President Dwight D. Eisenhower had undergone surgery for an intestinal ailment.

Ten years ago — Thousands of Poles tried to jam into the U.S. exhibit at the International Fair in Posnan, Poland.

Five years ago — The United States protested to the Soviets over shooting incidents at the Berlin wall.

One year ago — A tornado that cut across Topeka, Kan., killed at least 14 persons and left 2,000 homeless.

The safety council said it has revised its 1966 traffic death toll estimate upward by 500 — from 52,500 to 53,000 — on the basis of more complete information. Last year's total of 52,000 was an all-time high.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Long-time motion picture star Betty Hutton has petitioned for bankruptcy in U.S. District Court.

Attorney Irving Morris, who filed the petition Thursday, said, "It's the only way out for Betty. She is listing debts of about $150,000 and practically no assets."

He said Miss Hutton, 46, would take care of her obligations but wants to avoid "creditors sitting around the table" when she performs.

Morris blamed poor investments for the blonde actress' money problems. He said she is beginning a new singing-acting career.

NEW YORK (AP)—S. Y. Agnon, the Nobel Prize-winning author, has left for his home in Israel "to pray on Saturday at the Wailing Wall in the Old City" of Jerusalem.

Agnon had been here since May 21 on his first visit to the United States. He left from Kennedy Airport Thursday.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Sheikh Mohammed Abdullah, "the Lion of Kashmir" has been flown to New Delhi for medical treatment for diabetes after being under house arrest for two years in south India.

The Indian government announced that the 62-year-old Kashmiri independence leader was "weak and exhausted" and had requested treatment in a New Delhi hospital.

He was accompanied Thursday by his wife and daughter and was under heavy police guard.

LET'S BE HONEST A NEW HOME WILL NEVER COST YOU LESS!!

All the talk of tight money and high interest rates may have convinced you — you shouldn't or can't — consider a new home now.

—IF THIS IS THE WAY YOU FEEL, READ ON—

There is a housing shortage now! The worst in years, and it is getting worse, not better! Such factors as increasing land values, rising labor and material costs, and the housing shortage itself have raised the prices of homes almost 10% in the last year alone. It is a sure bet, a home will cost you more next year, any savings you might realize by waiting will be devoured by the higher COSTS of the home you want to own.

The building season is here now! We have: new choice lots now available, three 1967 new home styles never before built in this area, new ideas, new materials, new designs, new methods. We have expert craftsmen and 22 years of experience in building, subdividing and financing to serve you better. Remember, we will trade-in your present home and we have the financing ready and waiting for you — so don't put off shopping for that new home — it will only cost you more! Call us today!

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE C-565; Lois G., aged 16, is president of her church Young People's Society.

"Dr. Crane," she asked, "we are to have a discussion of such bad habits as liquor and tobacco."

"So would you give me some medical and psychological facts to use in our Sunday night meeting?"

Bad habits are actually fifth columnists. They stab you in the back, causing loss of jobs, auto accidents, heart attacks and even prevent happy marriages.

In the latter regard, one of the big football players at Northwestern University was a student in my psychology classes. "Dr. Crane," he once reported, "I never like to kiss a Northwestern University coed and smell a camel!"

And h ewasn't joking! Maybe you coeds believe a lot of the malarky you see on TV screens, which creates the false notion that by sucking on a cigarette you increase your appeal to men.

That's not true! At our Scientific Marriage Foundation, where we receive literally tens of thousands of inquiries from topnotch men, such as doctors, teachers, scientific farmers, and other executive types—only ONE man ever has asked us for an introduction to a girl who smokes.

We use a computer machine to match eligible men and women, setting 10 dials thereon. One dial pertains to "personal habits" such as the use of tobacco or liquor.

And about 50 per cent of all our men say: "Don't waste my time introducing me to a girl who smokes!"

And most of the remainder tell us: "If you find a girl who matches me on nine counts but uses tobacco, you might introduce us if you can't find anybody else."

"But I'd prefer a girl who does not smoke!"

Hundreds of lovely coeds, runners-up in college beauty contests, have grumbled because they were registered with us for a year or more, but had not been introduced to any male.

But when we checked back, we found they could quickly have met half a dozen talented, handsome men, except for the fact they smoked.

Since the men tie our hands, as it were, by forbidding our wasting their time on an introduction to a smoking female, these coeds are still unmarried.

Girls, men have a double standard, so they may date girls who smoke and drink.

But they usually don't regard such women as marriageable material!

They urge tobacco and liquor on a girl so they can seduce her faster—but not because they want to give her a wedding ring!

Medically, tobacco shortens your life span by 5 to 7 years, if you are only an average or one-pack-per-day smoker.

Liquor, too, contributes to half our auto accidents and damages your liver (cirrhosis), so smart folks omit tobacco, liquor and narcotics.

Send for my booklet on "Facts About Alcohol and Tobacco," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to covering typing and printing costs when you send for one of my booklets.)

Modern Cliches and All

Living Under the Honor Code

(Last of a Series.)
By TOM TIEDE
AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo.
(NEA) — Almost everything about this 9-year-old service school is timed for tomorrow. Its buildings are gobs of glass, its church shaped like a rocketship, its programming astronautic, its uniforms permanent-press.

THE BULK of the academy pupils wish to have the code maintained as it is . . . forever.

Even the cliches are modern. "You won't," snaps one cadet, "find any cobwebs in our cockpit."

He, however, is mistaken. One dusty old web covers the entire 18,000-acre campus; it's the honor code, essentially the same as one practiced at West Point since before 1900.

This web, critics complain, is unfortunately not in keeping with local decor. They believe the business of the institution should be progress in social thinking as well as technical. They insist a modern moral concept be adapted for modern man.

But critics do not set policy at the academy. Staff officials do. And staff finds nothing hoary about the West Point code, which is not really surprising since a good many of the staff graduated from the Point before beginning Air Force careers.

"That has nothing to do with it," says Gen. Louis Seith, commander of Air Cadets. He asserts that although the world turns and man changes, "the principles of integrity do not. An honorable man is of the same make-up today as he was when I attended classes."

Besides, he adds, staff does not really have much to do with the academy's honor system. "The cadets are responsible for it and they can do with it what they wish."

This point, clearly, is a damaging one to opponents of the code. In fact, it absolutely destroys all protests that academy cadets are being forced to live under an obsolete system that is administered by stuffy, sometimes subjective, faculty types.

Truth is, the code is the cadets' baby.

They can keep it. Or toss it out. Their decision has apparently been made. While some students may wish the code at least altered, the bulk of the academy pupils wish it maintained as is . . . forever.

Cadet leader Dennis Triggs, 22, puts it this way: "Most of us here have been on both sides of the fence. Before we came, we may have cheated or done some dishonest things in high school or among previous circles of friends. I know I did."

"But when we won appointment to the academy, we each took an oath never to lie, cheat or steal . . . nor tolerate anyone among us who does. Most of us wondered whether or not we'd be able to comply. And most of us have found that we can."

"So, now, after living under the code, we know its benefits and we understand the reasons for it. Now we don't want it any other way. We don't want to alter it because that would weaken it. We don't want to throw it out, because we believe it is right."

Triggs and others who discourse on the subject tend to, as the hippie generation might say, "square up." But the hippies do not understand. Neither does anyone who has not married his life to something other than personal routine.

Price Support Rate for Wheat Crop Announced

AMBOY — The county price support rate for 1967 crop wheat has been set at $1.33, it was announced this week by Walter Weber, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

"This county rate reflects the national average farm loan rate of $1.25 per bushel, same as for the 1966 crop," Weber said, "but it also reflects the price relationship and support rate for the terminal market area serving this county."

The chairman explained that in general loan rates in counties tributary to the terminals will reflect any terminal rate changes. Terminal rates announced by USDA May 26 range from $1.43 to $1.68 per bushel.

Several changes in the price relationships among terminals are being made from the 1966 crop rates. These changes reflect cash market price relationships and are based on a study made of cash market terminal prices. The changes are supported by county price data which reflected the differences found in the terminal market price study.

Generally, the changes are about like this, Weber said:

Gulf ports are being increased 1 cent per bushel from last year. Pacific Northwest, Central, South Central and Eastern terminals are being reduced 2 cents per bushel. Minneapolis and related terminals are reduced 1 cent. Missouri River and California terminals are unchanged. The rate for Chicago, St. Louis, East St. Louis and Cairo terminals is $1.47 compared to $1.49 for the 1966 crop.

County wheat growers who want to get price support loans or be eligible for CCC purchases will stay within their 1967 allotments and cooperate in the 1967 wheat program, Weber said. He also pointed out that participation in the 1967 wheat program not only qualifies growers for price-support loans and purchases but also for domestic marketing certificates.

Certificates for the '67 crop will be based on 35 per cent of the farm's projected production of wheat on the allotment. Certificates have a cash value equal to 100 per cent of parity as of next July 1, less the national average price support loan rate of $1.25. (May 1967 effective parity price for wheat is $2.59 per bushel.)

FPC Chairman Asks Blackout Prevention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Lee C. White of the Federal Power Commission warns of possible power failures in the Midwest as he asks Congress for more authority to prevent such blackouts.

White told a news conference Thursday the commission and affected utilities were watching closely the situation in Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri and Iowa.

A deficit in power generation and transmission, he said, made a power failure possible this summer, though he would not predict it.

He said the utilities involved in the failure that blacked out part of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland last Monday were optimistic they could handle expected peak loads this summer.

White has said that area, served by what is called the PJM power pool, lacks adequate reserve capacity to meet high sudden power demands.

The commission chairman remarked on the Midwestern possibility in response to questions at the news conference after meeting with PJM officials.

He also disclosed the administration's proposed legislation slated to be sent to Congress today.

The proposal would give the FPC authority to establish planning and operating standards for power pools to improve reliability.

Regional councils composed of representatives of the utilities, cooperatives and municipalities involved would be set up to see that the reliability programs were carried out.

Graduate Feted

COMPTON — Richard Eggers was honored Saturday evening at a party given by his wife to celebrate his graduation from Northern Illinois University, DeKalb. It was held in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Eggers.

Richard received his Bachelor of Science degree in Biology during the 10 a.m. commencement exercises in the University Stadium Saturday.

The over 40 guests in attendance were from Rockford, Elmhurst, Mendota, La Moille, Sublette, West Brooklyn, Paw Paw and Compton.

And that includes much of society.

"Sometimes I wonder about today's sophisticates," says a staff captain here. "Things like honor and loyalty seem to be passe. You turn on the television and all you see are interviews with pimply creeps with long hair talking about free love."

"Well, I'm lucky. Unlike others, I don't have to associate with all the self-proclaimed intellectuals who feel that taking baths and being honest is old-fashioned. I work with young men who, frankly, put a lump in my throat."

"Let the pimply creeps gab on. Let them picket and protest. They count for nothing in this country. When the chips are down we, as a nation, ask them for zero. We call on people like the cadets here . . . and we call on the integrity they represent."

That integrity, to be sure, is well-represented here . . . as it is at West Point, Annapolis and the other service schools. Truthfully, it bears bad fruit at times, as witness previous cheating scandals . . . and, truthfully, it will bear bad fruit in the future.

Still and all, the scandals, regardless of how sensational, are specks on the sheet. "We sometimes forget," says Seith, "that while 2 per cent of our young men resign for honor violations, another 98 per cent find the code workable."

Of those 98 per cent, most enter the Air Force.

Of those, many go to Vietnam.

SERVICE
AT THE LOCAL LEVEL
That's the nice thing about doing business with your home town, independent insurance agent. On the spot settlements . . . immediate service by the agent who wrote your policy . . . prompt attention to all details by those who have your interests at heart are only part of the dividends.
WE WOULD LIKE TO BE YOUR AGENT!
